LPGA Adopts CPI Course

Largest membership of women golf professionals in the world set to benefit from opportunity to specialize in putting instruction

The Ladies Professional Golf Association announced that Frankly Academies will become an Approved Education Provider for the LPGA Teaching and Club Professional Membership. Under the direction of renowned golf innovator Frank Thomas, Frankly Academies will deliver the online Certified Putting Instructor (CPI) Course.

"We are very excited to partner with Frankly Academies to help our LPGA Teaching Professionals become even more skilled in the science of putting," said Nancy Henderson, Executive Director for the LPGA Teaching and Club Professional membership. "This program fits perfectly with our goal to provide quality continuing education for our 1,300 members and help golfers of all ages and abilities improve their putting."

"I am very proud that the LPGA has joined Frankly Academies in a journey to a better understanding of the Science of Putting. The LPGA members are innovators in learning and teaching, and through this partnership they will remain on the leading edge of knowledge in this most important part of the game," said Thomas, managing partner of Frankly Academies.

"The CPI course is terrific. Covering essential information about putting instruction, this curriculum will help all of us as LPGA T&CP Members improve the quality of putting sessions we deliver. I found the course to be both informative and enjoyable, recommending this to anyone looking for instructional assistance to enhance putting performance. I wish I had access to this information when I began my teaching career...it's that good!" --Deb Vangellow, LPGA Master Professional and LPGA T&CP National Vice President

Exciting Times Ahead for

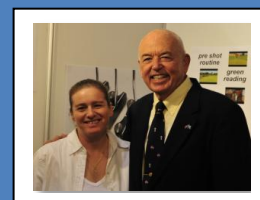

CPI Course.... This month we are excited to report that we have two more Professional Golf Associations joining the worldwide network of PGA's supporting the CPI course.

This will help us assist golfers internationally through this growth and new found reach.

Our payment plan has been very successful and many PGA pros have taken advantage of it. We will be extending this into the months ahead.

Until next time, may the Frog be with you.

PGA of Denmark Adopts CPI Course

We are delighted to announce that the PGA of Denmark has adopted the CPI Course for its members, awarding a possible total of 60 CPD points for becoming certified.

Steve Smith of the PGA of Denmark (pictured below with Frank) is the first CPI in Denmark, said, "The CPI online course and certification gives a very simple and thorough understanding of the putting technique. It contains a lot of technical information about putter design explained in a very simple manner. You can learn at your own pace online when you have time. A great way for apprentices to get a good understanding of putting and for the experienced PGA Pro, a great way to get some facts. All in all a great course."

Meet our Certified Putting Instructors!

"I thoroughly enjoyed the course and am now more confident in the knowledge I pass on to my pupils when giving putting lessons.

The best bit is the access that we still have to the resources and ideas from other professionals"--
